An unusual, but appreciated, donation of meat was accepted by Sidney's Agape Distribution Center. Hamburger and hot dogs are items normally found on the shelves at the center, but soon, venison will accompany those items, thanks to Davis Meats in Sidney and the Ohio Division of Wildlife. The deer meat was confiscated due to illegal hunting. Davis meats processed about 500 pounds of the venison and handed the meat to Pastor John Geissler from Agape Distribution. Wildlife Officer, Tim Rourke, said deer killed legally during Ohio's hunting season may also be donated to help others.
